

Dedicated to Alice Wong

As you commence with academic gain,
Glorify Christ with heart, soul and brain.
Though rough the way and oft with pain,
Praise God, you have overcome the strain.

Go labour on, your work is not in vain;
Go plough the field and scatter the grain;
Go work on every needy field and plain;
The fruit will ripen and soon harvest again.

God's promise to you will not fail
Though all of Satan's host assail;
God's armour on you will sure prevail
And prayer with Him within the veil.

Though the work may meet with giants tall,
Be not downcast for in trials all;
God has a plan for those He called,
That you be strengthened and not fall.

Banish every thought of doubt and fear,
Reap in joy though sown in tears,
Serve Him with patience, hope and love;
For our gracious Father sees from above.

With all your heart and soul do bring,
Honour and glory to Christ our King;
Faithfully serve and joyfully sing,
Heavenly bells, one day, for you will ring!

*For Ezra had prepared his heart to seek the law of the LORD, and to do it, and to teach in Israel statutes and judgments.
Ezra 7:10 (my life verse)*
